

Hanji

The art of Korean papermaking

Paper Fusion: Combine and Texture Paper with Joomchi

with

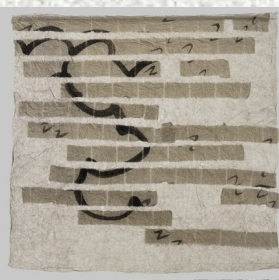

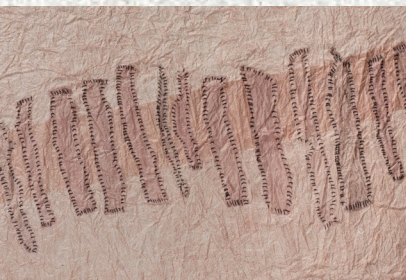

Aimee Lee

The amazing qualities of hydrogen bonding will be revealed as students use water and elbow grease to texture and fuse hand-made papers.

Hanji (Korean Paper) will be provided for experimentation as students learn to manipulate a sheet of paper so that it mimics fabric, and to “felt” paper with Joomchi, a Korean technique.

Students will also transform paper into yarn and thread fo future fibre applications.

WHEN: Saturday 15th July 2017
WHERE: Porongurup Hall
COST: $160 + Material Fee $40
TO BOOK: Email Great Southern Workshops
(maiyun@bigpond.com)
ORGANISER: Chez Armstrong

MIN 11

Great Southern Workshops